

Dillon Halpin is a flautist from San Diego who loves spending his time at the beach, producing electronic music, laughing with friends, and being with family. He grew up attending Mira Mesa High School, and has spent the last 3 years at UCSB as a flute performance major under the direction of Jill Felber. He is a member of the UCSB Chamber Orchestra, UCSB Flute Choir “Gaucho Flauto” and the Nunes Quintet. Dillon plans to pursue a masters degree after he graduates, and then a career in orchestral conducting.
