

Emily Weinberg (mezzo-soprano) is a young, up and coming singer in the San Diego music scene who, this past month, was awarded second place in the La Jolla Symphony and Chorus Concerto Competition. This season, Emily performed the title role in the Pacific Lyric Association's production of "Carmen", sang her first international role with the International Lyric Academy in Vicenza, Italy, and made her debut with San Diego Opera in their production of "Suor Angelica". Her other roles of the season include Zosia in Jake Heggie's "Two Remain" with the Lyric Opera of Orange County, and Cenerentola in the Pacific Symphony's production of "Cenerentola".
